"INTEGRATION" SCANDAL EXPOSED

N.Y. Uses Busses To Bring Negroes Into White Schools

NEW YORK—Cynics have sometimes expressed doubt as to whether New York City, long the recognized seat of America's financial power, is really an American city at all. Its population contains more Jews than the entire state of Israel; more Puerto Ricans than the capital of Puerto Rico; more Negroes than any city on earth; more aliens (reportedly) than native-born Anglo-Americans.

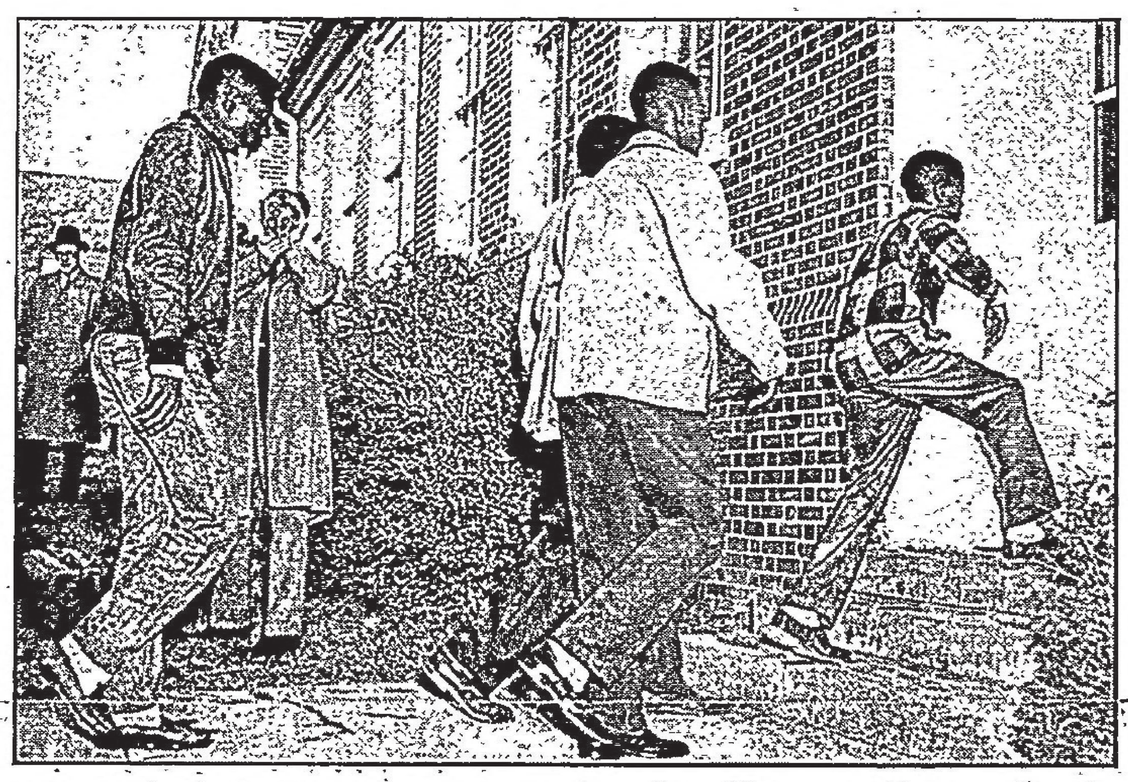
Yet this ghetto-city of aliens and coloreds not only controls the reins of America's financial power, but is the source and origin for most of the racial strife and agitation now engulfing this nation. New York City, as a point of fact, is the headquarters for all of the country's professional race-mixing organizations, including the N.A.A.C.P.

Understandably, therefore, New York City has long led the nation in its "progress" toward total and compulsory mongrelization at every level: employment, housing, recreational facilities, hotels, resorts—and, of course, education.

Not content with this "progress", however, the N.A.A.C.P. recently began agitating for a more complete "integration" of the city's schools. It seems that despite all their vaunted "progress" to date, many white children still go to all-white schools, while some Negroes continue to attend colored schools. The N.A.A.C.P. demanded that this "pattern of segregation" be broken up.

As a result, New York's school authorities embarked upon a city-wide program designed to "integrate" every school in the city by re-zoning (gerrymandering) the school districts. This worked where Negro and white residential areas adjoined, but it left some white schools still unmixed.

Last month, under prodding by the N.A.A.C.P., New York school officials announced a final solution to their problem: hereafter buses would transport Negro students into the remaining all-white schools. "No child", slobbered the board of education, "should be deprived of the right to attend a mixed school".



When National Guard bayonets, and later the FBI, were called out to enforce "integration" in Clinton's high school, the press corps was out in full force to report on the "victory" in Clinton. The town was inundated with swarms of photographers, reporters, TV cameramen and other assorted journalists. Clinton was big news then—so long as the news favored "integration". But when Clinton's Negro students (shown above) began using knives on their white classmates, the press suddenly lost interest. Since then, a curtain of censorship has cut off all news from Clinton . . .

Report From Clinton: Negroes Use Knives On White Classmates

CLINTON, TENN.—Last year the quiet little town of Clinton, Tennessee became a storm center of controversy when the state's renegade governor, "preacher" Frank Clement, attempted to force compulsory "integration" upon the unwilling community at bayonet point. For months thereafter every incident and happening in Clinton made the national headlines. When a dinky, trouble-making little Baptist preacher by the name of Paul Turner provoked a fist fight over the integration squabble (and got a bloody nose for his trouble) he became a television hero. Likewise, when attorney-general Brownell ordered the FBI to arrest 16 of the town's most outspoken segregationists, his action was hailed with headline and editorial from coast to coast. Ed Murrow even got into the act by turning out a lying propaganda film which he unctuously entitled: "Clinton and the Law". And when Clinton's high school re-opened under the watchful eye of the FBI, a dozen reporters and press photographers were on hand to record the triumphant return of the Negro students. Then suddenly all was silence; not a word came out of Clinton. A curtain of censorship suddenly enveloped the town . . . This abrupt loss of interest by the northern press was the result of a series of incidents which occurred after the Negroes re-entered Clinton high; incidents which you are not supposed to know about. One involved a Negro pupil by the name of Cain who made a practice of "bumping" white students in the halls, and threatening those who protested with a switch-blade knife. Another concerned a dull-minded 21 year-old Negro pupil who brutally beat up a 15 year old white student—and threatened several other students with a knife. This particular Negro fled the county after his house was dynamited. The nation's press reported the bombing briefly last month, but did not mention the knife incident which provoked it . . .

Since the dynamiting there are, at last report, only two of Clinton's 12 Negro students still attending school, despite Brownell's FBI, Clement's bayonets and judge Taylor's injunction. But of this the kept commercial press reported nothing . . .

House Committee Bares Washington Integration Fiasco

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Last September a Congressional Subcommittee headed by one of the South's great lawmakers, Rep. James C. Davis of Georgia, conducted a series of open hearings into the "integration" scandal in Washington, D.C. schools which would have rocked the nation—had the American public been fully informed of it. The Davis Committee's investigation revealed for the first time what really happened in Washington's schools when "integration" came.

With the notable exception of U.S. News & World Report, however, the kept commercial press presented such a slanted and distorted account of the Subcommittee's investigation that relatively few Americans had any real idea of what it was all about. Most newspapers devoted far more space to attacking the Davis Committee than in reporting its findings. . .

Heading the Subcommittee which exposed the Washington, D.C. school scandal was Rep. James C. Davis (center) of Georgia. Also on the Subcommittee was Rep. John Bell Williams, famous for his earlier exposure of Negro crime in the nation's capital.

Leading the smear brigade against Rep. Davis and his colleagues on the Subcommittee was, of course, Time magazine, which strived mightily to convey the impression that "integration" in Washington's schools was a howling success, and that the Davis Committee's criticism amounted to nothing more than a manifestation of Southern prejudice and discontent.

But it remained for the Anti-

Myth Of Six Million Missing Jews Hit

Those "Missing" Jews Now Settled In U.S.

SPECIAL — Although the United States is by no means the only modern nation where the art of propaganda and press censorship has been developed to a fine point, this country does enjoy one unique distinction which sets it apart from most others. For while many European peoples—and particularly those behind the Iron Curtain—are fully aware that their news is censored and distorted, very few Americans have a similar awareness. Most U.S. citizens, as a matter of fact, will bitterly deny that such censorship exists at all—a state of mind which makes them receptive to the crudest and most blatant forms of propaganda.

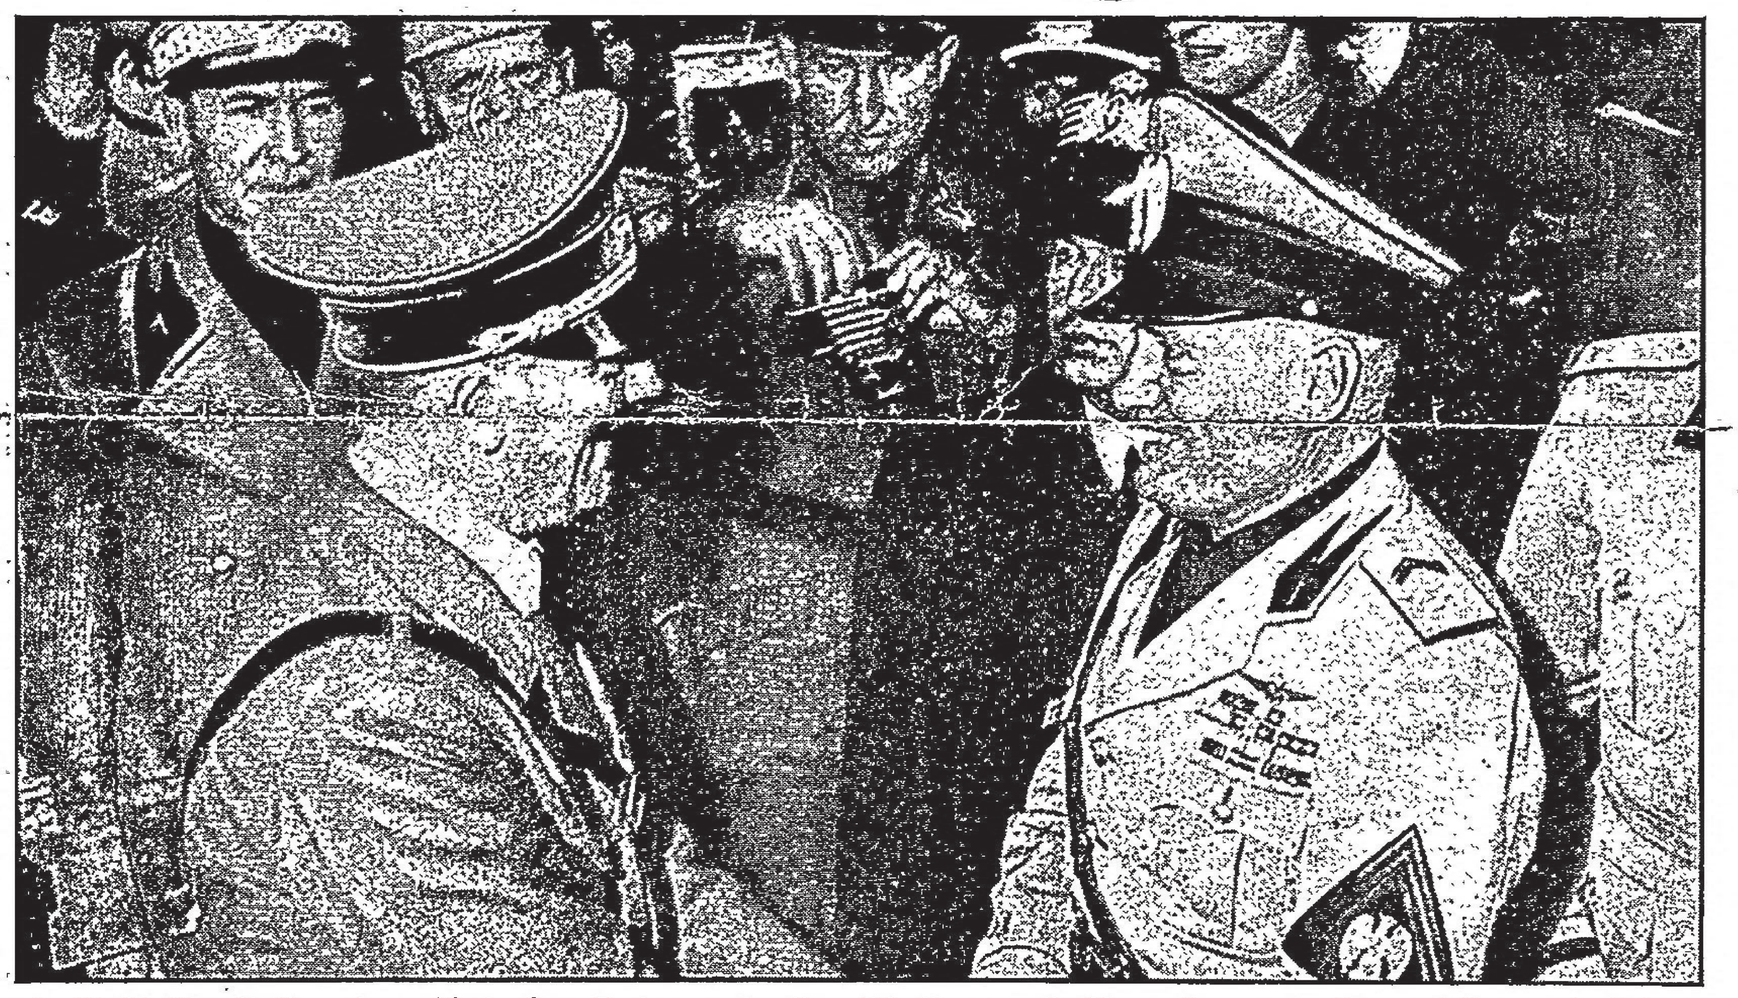
The most glaring example of the American public's vulnerability to propaganda is the uncritical way it has swallowed (and continues to accept as gospel truth) many of the absurd propaganda fairy tales which came out of World War II. The fantastic story of the six million Jews who were supposedly gassed and cremated by the Germans at Dachau, Buchenwald and other "extermination camps" is a case in point. Save for the germ warfare charges made against the United States by the Communists in Korea (a myth which is still firmly believed by hundreds of millions of Asiatics today) it is doubtful if a single other propaganda shibboleth has ever before been believed with such intensity by so many people as this one. And it is believed nowhere with greater fervor and conviction than in our great universities and seats of learning, where the account of Germany's slaughter and cremation of six million Jews is not only accepted without question, but is taught as bonafide history to the new generation.

Yet it can be proven beyond a peradventure of a doubt that the alleged mass cremation of Jews in Germany had little more basis in fact than the germ warfare charges of the Communists. Both are monstrous propaganda fabrications.

THE MYTH

Disproving the myth that six million Jews perished in World War II is not too difficult, once the Jewish propaganda technique is understood. Basically they utilize two methods to feed the myth. The first is to repeat the lie continuously and without letup. The second is to juggle population statistics. These Jewish statistics (which can be found in any World Almanac) purport to show that whereas the world's total Jewish population was 16,600,000 in 1939, it had been decimated to a mere 11,300,000 by the end of the war. The missing, they would have you believe, were cremated at Dachau, Buchenwald, Maidenek and other "nazi" horror camps . . .

What they have pretty obviously done is to doctor their statistics, taking advantage of the vast shift of Jewish population which came about before and during World War II. For example, the pre-war Jewish population of Soviet Russia is placed at 3,020,000 by the American Jewish Committee (see World Almanac, 1942; also Encyclopedia Britannica). But they place the current figure at only 2,000,000—a net loss of over 1,000,000. Yet there is every reason to believe the present Jewish population of Russia is vastly greater than before the war.



In World War II the prime object of Jewry's spite was Adolph Hitler. It was this Jewish hatred which forged the unholy alliance between the Western world and Communist Russia in a "crusade" against "nazism". Among other things the German chancellor, shown above conferring with Mussolini at Brenner Pass, is accused of exterminating most of German Jewry at Dachau and other "death camps"—this despite the fact that a large percentage of Germany's 500,000 Jews had already been deported before the war began in 1939 (mostly to the United States . . .)

Today Jewry's hatred is directed at a new enemy: Colonel Nasser of Egypt, whom Jewish propagandists have labeled the "Hitler of the Nile". And as with Hitler, they accuse Nasser of "persecuting" Jewry—notwithstanding the fact that Egypt has just been savagely and treacherously attacked and invaded by Israel's Jews. Yet such is the Jewish hold over the American press that many Americans have actually been conditioned to look upon Nasser as the aggressor, and "little Israel" as the victim of aggression . . . .

THOSE MISSING JEWS

Aside from natural increase, large numbers of Jews were acquired when Russia annexed Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia and eastern Poland prior to the war with Germany. This ballooned Russia's Jewish population to well over four million—possibly to over five million—by 1940. In addition, huge numbers of Jews from west Poland, Hungary, Rumania and other European centers of Jewish concentration certainly found their way into Soviet Russia during the war, just as countless hordes of their coracists made their way to the U.S. during that time. By every rule of logic, therefore, the present population of Russia, like the U.S. should be much greater than before the war, not less. Yet current Jewish statistics show Russia's current Jewish population to be only 2,000,000.

DOCTORED STATISTICS

They doctor U.S. statistics the same way. For instance, American Jewish Committee statistics show 4,770,000 Jews residing in the U.S. in 1938. Today, 19 years later, they place the figure at only 5,200,000—a clear distortion, since natural increase (i.e. births) alone would push the figure far past that mark. Legal immigration during those 19 years increased it even more. Add to that the illegal and non-quota entries and you have a Jewish population vastly in excess of that admitted by organized Jewry.

Why, then, have Jewish propagandists juggled their population statistics to hide this huge increase? The answer, obviously, is that tremendous numbers of those Jews who were supposedly cremated by Hitler are now settled comfortably in New York, Los Angeles, Miami and other meccas of Judaism throughout the U.S. Hordes of others have swelled the Jewish colonies of South America, England, France, Canada, Israel and Soviet Russia (the Jewish population of Moscow alone was estimated at 500,000 by New York Times correspondent Salisbury last year). Thus, it is fairly obvious that those six million Jews are missing on paper only . . .

THE EVIDENCE

Needless to say, this argument would fall apart if evidence could be produced to show that six million Jews actually were slaughtered by the "nazis". But where is the evidence? Where are the mass graves? The remains of six million Jews cannot be hidden; the Russians could not hide the physical evidence of the Katyn massacre, in which 10,000 Polish officers were butchered. Where, then, are the graves of those missing six million Jews? Ah, they were cremated; all that remains are the ashes . . .

Thus, the myth of the German crematoriums was invented out of sheer necessity. It relieved Jewish propagandists of the necessity of producing the physical evidence to back up their hysterical propaganda lie that six million Jews perished at the hands of Hitler . . .

SOME FACTS

It should be made clear at this point that a large number of Jews did die during the war years of 1939-45—from natural causes. The normal mortality rate in Europe and Russia roughly averages about 1½% per year of the total population—every year. Among Europe's eight million Jews, therefore, about 120,000 annually could be expected to expire from old age, infant mortality, disease, accidents and other causes. In six years this would amount to over 700,000—possibly 800,000—Jewish mortalities. These can hardly be counted as casualties of German brutality, however, even if they did occur during the war years, or even, for that matter, if many did occur in German detention camps . . .

In addition to these normal deaths, several thousand (possibly many thousand) Jews undoubtedly were killed or executed for various offenses, such as guerrilla activity, and a much larger number must have succumbed to the hard conditions more or less typical of any prison regimen.

RETURN TO DACHAU

But as for the story of millions of Jews being marched into massive gas ovens for extermination: a child can see through it once the evidence is in. You have only to visit one of the more publicized German prison camps such as Dachau to see for yourself it is a myth. You will find a crematorium at Dachau, yes, just as you will find them at some U.S. penitentiaries, but it is not a mass crematorium. There is also a gallows there, as there are at some U.S. prisons; but the gallows is hardly an instrument of mass extermination.

Real Truth About Dachau Prison Told

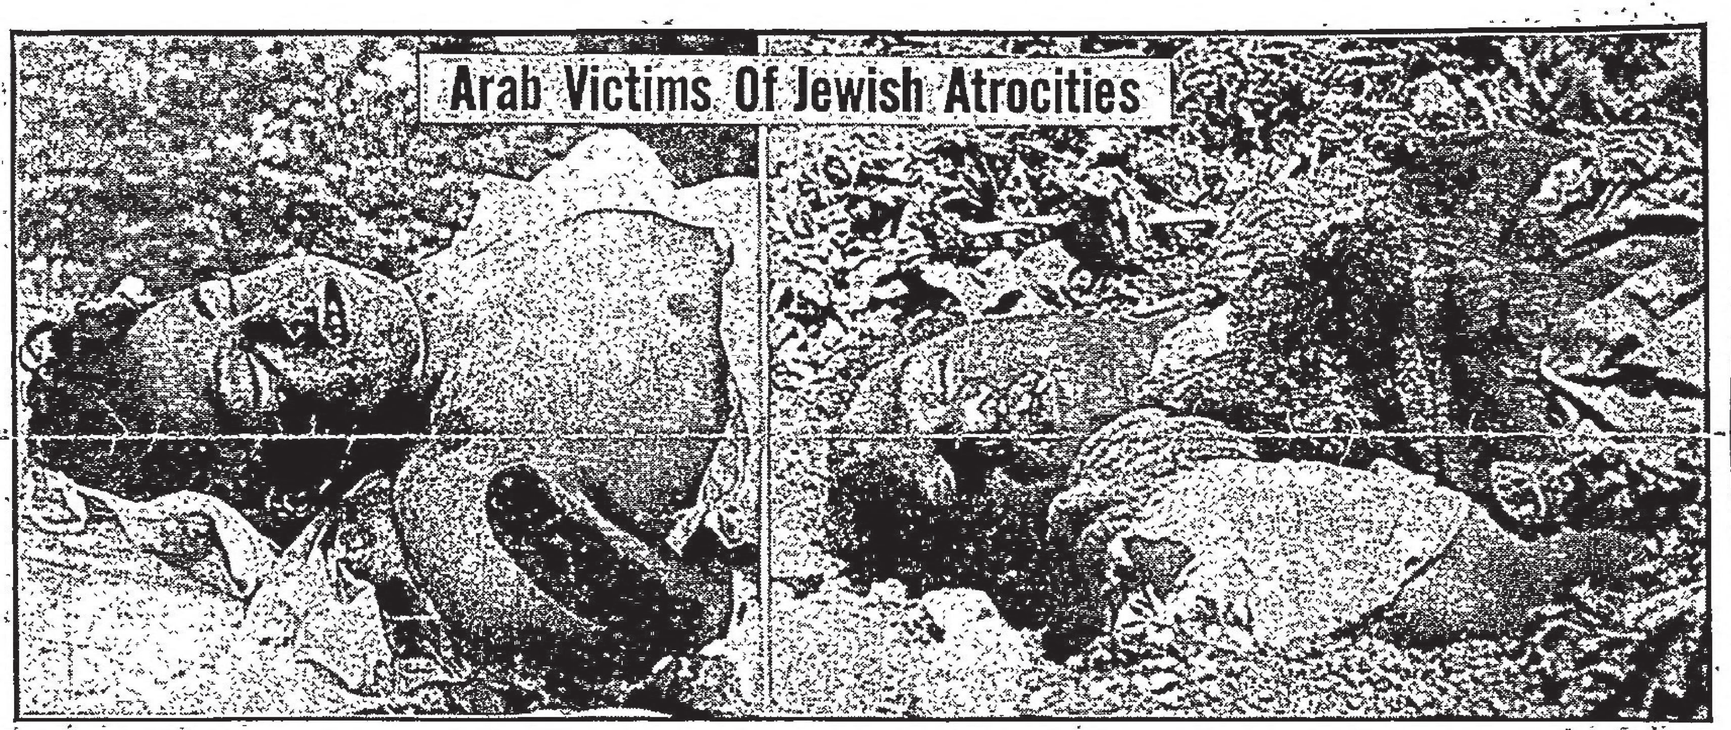
But since you will probably never visit Dachau personally, perhaps the eye-witness report of one of the Jews who was formerly imprisoned there, and who only last year returned there for a visit, will suffice. His report is to be found in the February (1956) issue of the American Jewish Committee's monthly periodical, "COMMENTARY"—one of organized Jewry's major mouthpieces. The article is entitled: "Returning to Dachau", by Bruno Bettelheim, and it describes Dachau in gory and horrendous detail: the crematorium, the gallows, the death chamber—all have been preserved intact as a "memorial", according to Bettelheim. Let us take his description of the place, word for word, as it appears in "COMMENTARY":

"Of course, I saw signs explaining what each place of horror had been used for", wrote Bettelheim. "Maybe what oppressed me was the smallness of it all. It was hard to imagine, looking at the neatness of everything, that tens of thousands of people had over many years suffered incredible degradation and pain here. True, in a way the orderliness and dispatch with which bureaucratic transactions in human lives were once effected here had been one of the supreme horrors of the place. But this, too, no longer came through from the present neatness and orderliness. The little box that had been the death chamber could not have held many prisoners at once. There were only two openings, each admitting but a single corpse at a time to the oven of the crematorium. The two burial places, one marked with a wooden cross, the other with a Jewish star—pits into which the ashes of thousands of human beings had been dumped—were each not much larger than an individual grave".

That is the way Bruno Bettelheim, a former Jewish inmate, described Dachau as he saw it on his return there only last year. It all sounds pretty horrible. His talk about the "death chamber", the crematorium, the "pits into which the ashes of thousands of human beings had been dumped"—all are calculated to inspire revulsion for the bestial Germans who operated the place, and to arouse pity for the Jews who perished there. You have heard the same story, with slight variations, many times before.

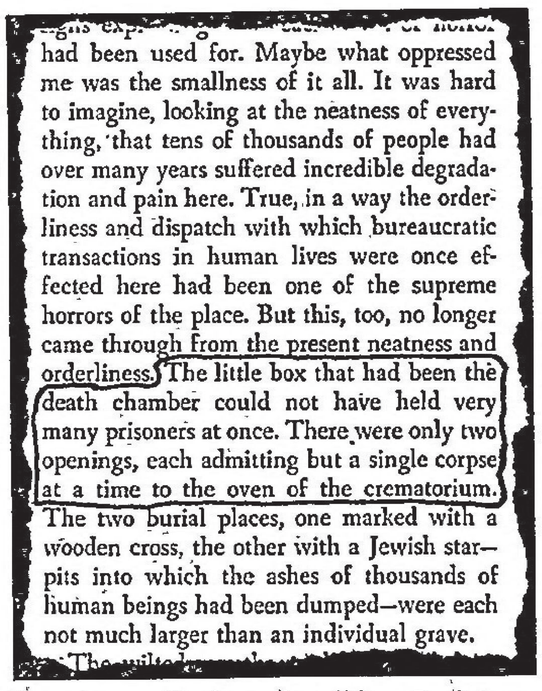
But notice: there is a serious inconsistency in the picture. Notice that this extermination place, this scene of mass slaughter, this place of horror, has only a tiny crematorium capable at the most of disposing of two bodies at once. (Notice, too, the author's weasel trick of referring to the crematorium as a "death chamber"). We are asked to believe, in other words, that the Germans conducted a mass slaughter of Jews here—two at a time! Here, supposedly, were cremated the "thousands" of Jews whose ashes he tells us were dumped into the "pits" nearby! Truly, Dachau must have been the scene of horrible slaughter . . .



When Adolph Hitler began deporting Jews from Germany in 1933, all the world was aroused over the pitiful plight of the victims. By contrast, however, when the Jews carried out an even more brutal expulsion of Israel's Arab population in 1948, hardly a word of the incident reached the American public. To this day Americans remain largely ignorant of the fiendish atrocities committed against the Arabs in 1948—and which are still being committed against them. Not a word of criticism appeared in the press; not a single atrocity picture like the one above was printed.

Yet the story is well known. In 1948, when the British pulled out of Palestine, the population of the territory consisted of about 1,000,000 native-born Arabs—and roughly 600,000 Jews, most of whom were recent immigrants. When the Jews declared Israel to be a nation, their first act was to embark upon a deliberate reign of terror calculated to drive the native Arabs from the country. Homes were dynamited, Arab women and children were bayoneted, entire families were executed. The brutality of this Jewish terror can be judged from its success: within days more than 80% of the country's Arabs had fled into the surrounding desert, taking with them only what they could carry. Israel's Jews immediately seized all the Arab's "abandoned" property: homes, farms, stores, banks, everything.

Today, almost 900,000 of these embittered Arab refugees are jammed in camps in the Gaza strip and other border areas, many within sight of their former homes, now occupied by immigrant Jews. That is the story behind the present tension in the Middle East, yet Jewish propagandists have not only kept these atrocities out of the American press, but have actually made it appear that Israel's Jews are somehow the victims of Arab aggression . . . You figure it out . . .



had been used for. Maybe what oppressed me was the smallness of it all. It was hard to imagine, looking at the neatness of everything, that tens of thousands of people had over many years suffered incredible degradation and pain here. True, in a way the orderliness and dispatch with which bureaucratic transactions in human lives were once effected here had been one of the supreme horrors of the place. But this, too, no longer came through from the present neatness and orderliness. The little box that had been the death chamber could not have held very many prisoners at once. There were only two openings, each admitting but a single corpse at a time to the oven of the crematorium. The two burial places, one marked with a wooden cross, the other with a Jewish star—pits into which the ashes of thousands of human beings had been dumped—were each not much larger than an individual grave.

The above clipping, describing Dachau as a "place of horror", was taken from the Feb. (1956) issue of COMMENTARY, official organ of the American Jewish Committee. But note that although the author claims "thousands" of Jews were cremated here, the crematorium is only of normal size—much too small for the mass cremations he claims took place there. . . . .

A TYPICAL PRISON

Actually, the picture we get of Dachau is that of a typical war time prison or detention camp. The presence of a small crematorium there proves nothing; there are crematoriums in almost every U.S. city today. There is nothing sinister about it, and we don't refer to them as "death chambers".

In a prison camp the size of Dachau it is to be expected that inmates would expire from time to time, and we can presume an occasional use of the crematorium's facilities. But its very smallness precludes the possibility it might have been used for mass cremations—even if the fuel-starved Germans had been willing to waste the necessary coal for such a project.

The latter point is important For while we can imagine an occasional cremation, the suggestion that they would divert millions of tons of precious and desperately needed coal (or equivalent fuel) to burn six million Jews is too utterly fantastic to entertain—even if you are willing to believe that an industrious, hard working, highly Christianized nation such as Germany would resort to such incredible barbarism to begin with . . .

Still, millions of Americans continue to believe the fantastic lie that six million Jews perished in German "cremation ovens"—just as countless millions of Asiatics still believe that Americans waged "germ warfare" against North Korea in 1950 . . .

CONCLUSION: When the Allied armies overran Germany in 1945, one of their first acts was to send photographers and reporters to the prison camps, of which Dachau was one. Conditions there were indescribable. Administration had broken down completely. Inmates were dying like flies from disease and malnutrition. All were weak from hunger and cold. The dead were unburied . . .

These scenes were photographed in stark detail and distributed widely all over Europe and America by newsreel, newspaper and picture magazine, thus giving credence to the pathological Jewish propaganda lies which followed. These pictures, more than anything, made it possible for Americans to believe the Jewish lie that six million Jews perished in German "extermination camps".

Admittedly, conditions were terrible in the German prison camps in the last days of the war. But the point to remember is that conditions were terrible outside, too. By the war's end Germany had been under massive air attack for three years. Its cities lay in ruin, millions of its people were maimed, homeless and near starvation. An estimated 500,000 non-combatants (including school children, babes in arms, the aged) were slaughtered by Allied bombs. In some cases decent burial was impossible, and the dead were interred in mass graves by the trainload (all this time Germany was supposed to be meticulously and tediously cremating millions of Jews). But you saw none of these photographs, though they were at least equal to any taken in the prison camps. Instead, the only photographs you saw were those of concentration camp inmates—the "victims" of "nazism". (You weren't told that at least some of these pitiful "martyrs" were common criminals).

In this way were Americans brainwashed into accepting the fantastic myth that six million Jews perished in German crematoriums. History will someday reveal that this myth was inspired by international Jewry's almost pathological hatred of Germany, and that the perpetrators of this most vicious of propaganda frauds were in fact the real war criminals of World War II . . .

Meanwhile, the ghosts of those six million Jews have taken over the main street of practically every town and city in the U.S. . . .

Washington Schools

Defamation League of B'nai B'rith to put the final touch to this mockery of a free press by getting out a fancy six chapter "report" of its own last month in which it sought to show that "integration" in Washington's schools, far from being a failure, had indeed been a "miracle of social adjustment". Typically, Time magazine hailed the Anti-Defamation League report in an article entitled: "Miracle on the Potomac", in its Feb. 25th issue.

The Anti-Defamation League's "report" (it's actually titled: "Miracle of Social Adjustment") was compiled by a renegade Washington school official by the name of C. F. Hansen, and it is aimed primarily at the nation's educators, which the ADL makes a specialty of propagandizing regularly through its numerous branch offices throughout the country.

Since the vast majority of the school teachers and educators receiving the ADL's propaganda opus, "Miracle of Social Adjustment" haven't the foggiest notion of the facts turned up by the Davis Committee, it behooves us to review some of the Subcommittee's findings to better judge for ourselves whether the "integration" of Washington's schools did in fact result in a "miracle of social adjustment". Here are some of the conditions uncovered by the Davis Committee:

ITEM: The "integration" of the District's schools resulted in a mass exodus of white students from Washington into the surrounding (and still segregated) suburbs. Concurrently, there has been a vast increase in Washington's Negro enrollment. Today Negroes already outnumber white students 73,723 to 34,750. . .

ITEM: Sex problems and venereal diseases have become serious problems in the newly integrated schools. Here is the way the Davis Committee describes the situation in its official report:

"One of the dangerous and deplorable developments in the District of Columbia schools is the sex attitude of the Negro—even down into the lower elementary grades. The fact that 13 little Negro girls—6 years old and under—were treated for gonorrhea in 1955 is only a sample of the sex attitude found in the District of Columbia today. Teachers in the integrated schools reported deplorable conditions in sex contacts in their schools. Reports of attempted rape, assaults, chasing girls and even teachers. Negro girls soliciting boys at school, sex talk, and suggestive talking and attempted fondling of white girls, and innumerable sex affronts were reported by the school personnel that was interviewed. Illegitimate children born to 15-year-old girls increased 42% during the first year of integration over the previous year. Very few whites were involved. The increase for girls under 15 years of age was 23%. The Department of Health reported 854 cases of gonorrhea alone among school children in 1955—97.8% were Negroes".

ITEM: The crime rate is vastly greater among Negro juveniles of school age in Washington, as indicated by the following statistics released by the Davis Committee:

Out of 1814 juveniles of 17 and under arrested on felony charges, a total of 1438 were Negroes; only 376 whites. For such crimes as murder, rape, attempted robbery and drug violations, Negroes accounted for ALL the arrests. They accounted for 97% of the robberies, 86% of the attempted rapes and 92% of the thefts. . .

ITEM: The Davis Committee published statistics which showed conclusively that the mental capacity of the Negro student is vastly below that of whites—at all age levels. At the third grade level, Negroes were already a full year behind whites in educational achievement; at the eighth grade level the differential was more than two grades. Citywide achievement tests (the Iowa test) among 12th graders showed, according to the Subcommittee's report, that white students in Washington scored among the TOP 5% of the nation's high school students, but that its Negroes scored among the LOWEST 5% of the same group. "The results of these tests", reported the Davis Committee, "admittedly shocked the school administration. It was particularly shocking when it discovered that there were a great many students, the overwhelming majority being Negro, in the senior high school, who could only read on the third, fourth and fifth grade level" . . .

ITEM: Most revolting of all was the breakdown of discipline and morale which followed integration; a breakdown which is driving white teachers, as well as white students, out of the District's schools. Here are a few excerpts from the testimony of Washington's teachers and principals as given before the Davis Committee:

Mr. Hugh Smith (a principal): "At times I heard colored girls at the school use language that was far worse than I have ever heard even in the Marine Corps . . . Fighting, including several knifings, went on continuously . . . There have been more thefts at Eastern in the last 2 years than I had known in all my thirty-odd years in the school system . . . Never, in all my experience, have I observed such filthy and revolting habits in the lavatories. Some of the urinals were completely torn away from the walls . . ."

Mr. Arthur Story (teacher): "There would be such things as stealing, boys feeling girls, disobedience in the classroom, failure to obey teachers, carrying knives, and that type of thing . . . During 1955 I imagine we called the police about 50 times. However, the newspapers claimed only 4 incidents in 3 years . . ."

Mrs. Elva C. Wells (principal): "Prior to integration we did not have anything like the foul and obscene language we have had since integration. Obscene language has caused many fights. It is this language, both among girls and boys that is the greatest cause of disturbance . . . We have found obscene notes being passed around the classrooms. Some very bad ones. Writings on the walls, on the stairways, and in the lavatories of obscene words and obscene pictures . . . Some of the things are small things, but it happened so often I am going to mention it. A Negro girl will stand in the aisle and dare a white girl to pass her . . . Or walking down the halls and stepping on their heels. Little things that show an antagonism for which I can see no reason. Those students were made welcome. Our building is made as attractive as it can be . . .Another thing, where I have almost lost some of my custodians on this, is the use of the radiators and the lobbies in the auditorium as urinal stands; also the steps as a toilet, inside the building . . . Expectorating on the steps and in the halls; stealing food in the cafeteria . . . It seems to me that certain ones have failed to accept the wholesome friendship which has been proffered to them at our school. Many show this attitude of belligerence, sullenness, impertinence and aggression for which I see no cause whatever . . ."

There is more of this testimony: 500 pages of it. But the above samples will give you an idea of conditions in Washington's integrated schools today: conditions which the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith would have you (and the nation's educators) believe represent a " . . . miracle of social adjustment".

Press Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Delayed) — The CHICAGO TRIBUNE has published a breakdown of official statistics which show that the state of Israel, with a population of 1,675,000, has received more foreign aid grants and credits from the U.S. treasury than all the Arab nations combined during the past eight years. The Arab nations, with a total population of 63,761,000, have received $376,322,000 since 1948, while Israel obtained $404,000,000 in U.S. funds during the same period. On a per capita basis this means the impoverished Arabs have received slightly less than $6.00 each in U.S. aid, as compared with $241.00 for each of Israel's Jews . . . In addition, TIME magazine in its Jan. 21, 1957 issue reveals that the state of Israel has collected almost a billion dollars (mostly tax free) from U.S. Jewry since 1948. Of this, TIME listed $270 million as coming from Israeli bond sales, while more than $700 million was raised by Jewish "charitable" organizations.

SAN FRANCISCO—After operating for more than 19 years as a daily newspaper, the Communist Party's west coast organ, PEOPLE'S WORLD, has folded as a daily, will hereafter publish only once a week. Declining subscriptions and financial support were given as reasons for the move. In announcing the decision to publish as a weekly, PEOPLE'S WORLD claimed it had distributed more than 50,000,000 copies during the past 19 years. Since the paper is mailed out under second class permit at ⅛th of a cent (⅛c) per copy (for two ounces), and since the Postal Department claims to be losing money on its first class mail (at 3c per ounce), it would appear that the U.S. Post Office has subsidized the Communist PEOPLE'S WORLD to the tune of several million dollars since 1937 . . . (Note: The Postal Dept. has thus far conspicuously failed to enforce a law passed by Congress more than five years ago which requires Communist literature going through the U.S. mails to be labeled as Communist propaganda. . . .)

PARIS—A two day conference of the executive committee of the European section of the World Jewish Congress (WJC) meeting in Paris earlier this month has, according to the Jewish Telegraph Agency, demanded that Egypt be made to pay reparations to Egyptian Jewry ". . . for damage caused Jews and for property confiscated from them by the Nasser regime".

ST. LOUIS—John Hamilton, editor and publisher of the periodical known as the WHITE SENTINEL, was convicted last month in a St. Louis court on charges of homosexual activity. Hamilton, a self-professed "former Communist" ("I was branded with the number, 666") was first arrested last year on several morals charges, including a sodomy offense against a 15 year old boy. Although his name no longer appears on the masthead as editor, Hamilton continues to edit and publish the WHITE SENTINEL despite his pretended "resignation" some months ago.
